The British Consulate in New York has confirmed it will provide me with temporary travel documents allowing me to travel to London and to and from Spain. I will attend the US Embassy in London prior to my return on July 31, 2018 to re-confirm the advice given to me before returning for trial¹ earlier this year: that an individual may return to the US with an expired green card provided he/she returns within a year of its expiration date.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ M. J. Little
